- Using our solutions, employees can quickly prepare professional presentations, letters and reports in keeping with the organisation's visual identity.
- Using our solutions, organisations can easily administrate, update and maintain their visual identity in all Microsoft Office programmes.

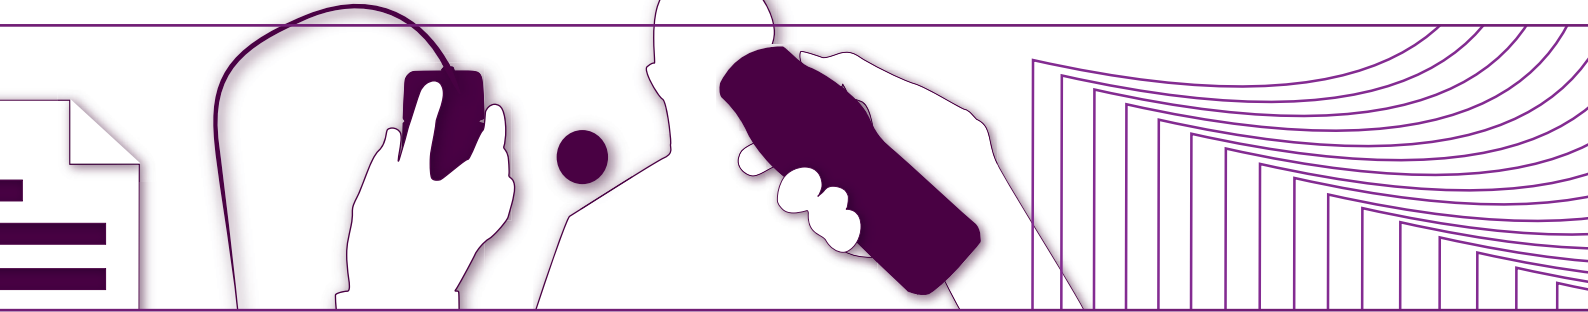

When you get a new visual identity

Our competency brings you top performance when a new visual identity has been developed or the existing one has been revitalised. Our job is to bring the visual identity to life in PowerPoint, Word, Excel and Outlook, so that it is accessible and easy to use.

When visual identity is important

At SkabelonDesign we focus on streamlining visual identity in the everyday life of the user. We supply the necessary tools for managing visual identity in Microsoft Office and thereby achieve an unmistakable and uniform communication. We see the management of visual identity as an important element of the organisation's communication. It emphasises the organisation's profile and ensures that your investment in visual identity pays off.

Who do we help and how?

Who is SkabelonDesign?

Optimisation of the visual experience

SkabelonDesign helps organisations – usually in co-operation with those in charge of design, communication and marketing – streamline their visual identity.

Many organisations want their visual identity embedded in all internal and external communication. With our solutions, they can standardise their communication in a whole new way.

Experience how employees can prepare documents and presentations completely in keeping with the organisation's visual identity – quickly and professionally, and with just a superficial understanding of Microsoft Office programmes.

Profile

SkabelonDesign develops templates and software for Microsoft Office's well-known programmes: PowerPoint, Word, Excel and Outlook. Our goal is to operationalize and streamline the use of visual identity in communication via Microsoft Office.

We aim to help organisations get maximum use out of their visual identity in Microsoft Office by using our competency in Microsoft technology and solutions.
